ROBERT MORALES, COURT CLERK
Case Number CJ-2025-135

JUDGE SHEPERD

1

4. On June 1, 2026, the Court held a virtual status conference in which the Court gave preliminary guidance to the parties on the issues raised by the pending Motions for Extension of Time to Comply with the Discovery Order and Motion to Enforce, but noting the Motions would be heard on July 23, 2026. Among the guidance provided by the Court was for State Farm to attempt to complete its document production by June 15 and that Ms. Manduca thereafter be produced for deposition between June 22 and July 2, 2026.

5. Since that time, State Farm has been working continuously to comply with that guidance. It was able to work with Ms. Manduca to find a date in the ordered window and she will be produced for deposition on June 23. State Farm has produced in advance of this filing and on the same date, much of what has been ordered by the Court, with priority given to documents relevant to Ms. Manduca, much of which is duplicative between what was produced anew in response to the Court's Order and what was included in the earlier production, which has proved more difficult to produce.

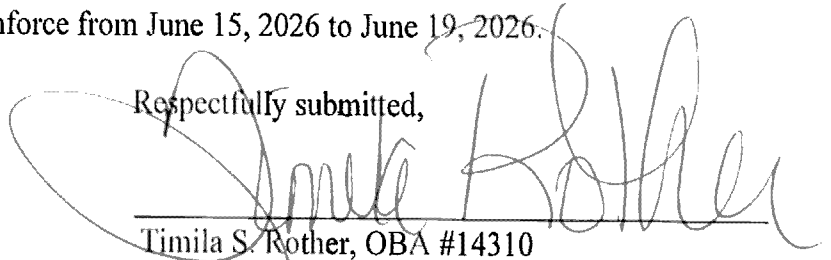

6. State Farm still has work to do to complete the production and asks for the extension of time to respond to the Motion to Enforce, which will not be heard until July 23 anyway, so that it can give the Court a more complete account of the status of production and what, if anything, remains outstanding so that the Court has a full picture at the hearing on July 23.

7. This request is not made for purposes of delay. When State Farm is through producing documents it will have produced well more than 700,000 documents. Even if everything goes right, and it seldom does, there is just no way to do that quickly. Just the download of that volume of information takes hours or days which is the shortest part of the process.

WHEREFORE, Defendant State Farm Fire and Casualty Company respectfully requests the Court enter an order, a proposed form of which is submitted herewith, extending its deadline to respond to Plaintiffs' Motion to Enforce from June 15, 2026 to June 19, 2026.

Respectfully submitted,
